CUTLINE
#10/8/84-3-40

University of Montana physical therapy students Christie Johnson, left, and Chris Newman, demonstrate how a whirlpool donated to the university by Missoula General Hospital might be used for classroom practice. During the past year, the physical therapy department has received other equipment from Missoula General, an electromyography unit from the Western Montana Clinic of Missoula and the "Archives of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation" from St. Patrick Hospital. Johnson, a senior, is the daughter of Julia Johnson of Belt. Newman, also a senior, is the son of Conway and Joyce Newman of Great Falls. (UM/Howard Skaggs)
